H. A. Kufus, dealer in dry goods, Woodland, Ill., writes Botanic Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y., June 22nd, 1878: "Gentlemen—Please find enclosed $5.00, for which send me, by express, Anti-Fat. I have taken one bottle and lost five and one-quarter pounds."

AT VICKSBURG.

A Graphic Description of the Terrible Situation There.

From the Chickasaw Times.

The following letter written by Mr. William A. Fairchild, chairman of the Howard association committee of Vicksburg, and past commander of Knights Templar of the State of Mississippi, to his friend, Mr. Norman T. Gassett, commander of Appollo commandery of this city, will be read with interest by the Masonic fraternity and the public generally:

VICKSBURG, Sept. 3, 1878.—NORMAN T. GASSETTE, Chicago—My Dear Friend:

You are no doubt daily advised from day to day of the condition of our plague-stricken city, and the work we are endeavoring to do, but from your northern towns are unable to grasp a true conception of the heartrending sights that are brought hourly under our observation.

We are encompassed on every side by the walls of the dying and bereaved.—It has become a question whether enough will remain to cover the dead.

The scourge in its wild career is no respecter of persons. Clergy and laymen alike fall before it. On yesterday the Rev. McMains, of the Catholic church, a man beloved by all our citizens for his good deeds, fell a victim to the malady. To day we posted the Hon. J. F. Dall, recently elected mayor of the city, and who was to have assumed his official duties on yesterday. But a few hours ago the disease entered my own household.

Unholy misery has possession of our city. Business is entirely suspended; the streets deserted, save by the "dead brigade." who deposit the coffins at almost every altars residence. The sight is truly a sad one, and never to be forgotten by those who have witnessed it. The wagons proceed along the street a given distance, the men silently depositing their wooden caskets as the occasion demands. The distance supplied is retraced on the opposite side of the street and the dead gathered up. During an occasional hour of leisure from such duties these wagons are converted into ambulances, and the men move from point to point on the streets and by-ways, picking up in their course the disabled and dying, who are immediately conveyed to the hospital, and few of whom ever emerge from its interior to breathe the vital air that envelopes this sorely stricken city. Your friend greets you to-day with an encouraging word; tomorrow you are called upon to lay him silently away. Our Howard association and the Masonic association are doing their respective work to the extent of their means. We have "drawn our swords in defence of destitute widows and orphans," and all others in distress. We are waging a warfare against the pestilence in their behalf, and doing all we can to "feed the hungry, clothe the naked, succor the sick, and bind up the wounds of the afflicted." We will hold our posts of duty until the end is reached. The number of interments to-day is 44, a marked increase over any previous day, not excepting the epidemic of '72. At 11 o'clock this morning the sick list was read by our secretary, and a footing of eighteen hundred was shown. The new cases reported to-day are upward of four hundred. Our physicians are unable to confine their efforts of new cases from the large increase and consequent demand upon their time. We have asked for physicians from all parts of the country. Our present number is small, and those that remain are already worked beyond their endurance. Victims of the pestilence are stumbled now in almost deserted homes by the good Samaritan and their co-laborers—desolate wreaths of purifying flesh hanging over many such deserted homes. The story of the pestilence chapter of history which is to follow in the stouter heart, "Leave my friends, as you do. In the应聘 air of the lake region, it is sufficient for you to realize the awful pestilence and death that are decimating the land, and I may add the entire world."

The telegraph, however, tells another story which you can not possibly imagine—and which you certainly have not deserved. For this reason we have not

Unless he who has seen that plague upon us shall order that the hand of destruction should stay in the interest of mankind at this point of its work. God help the poor of the south. Could you look upon the scene upon which you would shudder and give us your tears.

Fatherly,
W. A. FAIRCHILD.

The Stepping Stone to Health.

The acquisition of vital energy is the stepping stone to health. When the system lacks vitality, the various organs lag in the duty, become chronically irregular, and disease is evidently instituted. To prevent this unhappy state of things, the debilitated system should be built up by the use of that inimitable tonic, Hostetler's Stomach Bitters which invigorates the digestive organs, and insures the smooth conversion of food into blood of a nourishing quality, from every muscle, nerve and fiber acquire augmented supplies of vigor, and the whole system experiences the beneficial effect. Appetite returns, the system is refreshed by beneficial stimulus, the nerves grow strong and calm, the despondency begotten of chronic indigestion and an uncertain state of health disappears, and that sallow appearance of the skin peculiar to habitual invalids, and persons ill in vital energy, is replaced by a more becoming tinge.—S.P.
